

Case Study: Donating Private Equity Interests to Charity

Donating a portion of your private equity interests before a liquidity event can mean a greater gift to charity

Ellen, a managing director at a private equity firm and the general partner (GP) for several PE funds, loves giving back and wants to find the most efficient way to make a difference to a whole community.

She owns interests in the GP entity (formed as an LLC), a co-invest vehicle (co-invest LLC) that is invested in ABC Company (a portfolio investment company that is also partially owned by one of the firm's PE funds (PE Fund III) and LP interests in PE Fund III.

Maximize your charitable giving

The charitable contribution of non-publicly traded assets to a public charity generally offers two significant tax efficiencies. First, when these assets are contributed to a public charity, the donor is generally entitled to a fair market value tax deduction¹. Second, the public charity generally does not pay tax on the sale of the asset.²

Fueling philanthropy with appreciated private equity interests

Ellen's firm is preparing to exit ABC Company and she would like to make a charitable contribution to offset her anticipated tax liability. She owns four distinct non-publicly traded assets that may be candidates for charitable giving:

1. GP interest (entity formed as an LLC): Giving this interest can effectively allow Ellen to transfer her carried interest
2. LP interest in PE Fund III: Giving this interest will allow the anticipated distributions to flow to the charity
3. Co-invest LLC interest: Giving this interest will also allow the anticipated distributions to flow to the charity
4. Shares in ABC Company³: Some PE firms are structured such that it is possible for the firm to distribute portfolio company stock to the managing directors in advance of a possible liquidity event. Ellen could then contribute that stock to charity.

From her four options, she chooses to donate shares in ABC Company before it is sold. These shares are part of a privately held C-corporation.

How it Works

She calls Fidelity Charitable well in advance of the sale to arrange the donation. Her contribution of non-publicly traded assets offers two significant tax efficiencies. First, her gift is magnified by minimized capital gains taxes. Instead of giving $3.8 million, she's able to contribute $5 million, all because she chose to donate pre-sale shares. She will also be entitled to a fair market value tax deduction on the shares.⁶

Considerations for donating private equity interests

Are the interests/shares transferrable?

The entity or Company's governing documents must be reviewed to understand transfer restrictions and amendments, approval, or waivers that may be required to complete the necessary transfers. This includes transfers from the partnership (GP or LP) to the managing directors (MDs) and from the MDs to the charity.⁷

Does anticipatory assignment of income apply?

Since the Fund is considering exiting ABC Company, Ellen and her advisors must determine if her donation of LP interests, LLC interests, or ABC Company stock prior to an exit constitutes an anticipatory assignment of income. Critical to the analysis is whether the exit negotiations have ripened to the point where what Ellen is donating to charity is effectively the right to receive cash. Determinations are highly dependent on the facts and circumstances. A key question is whether the charity can be compelled to sell the stock/interests. If Ellen or the charity can be compelled to sell the stock, then the anticipatory assignment of income doctrine may apply. If, on IRS audit, it is determined that there was an anticipatory assignment of income, Ellen will have to pay the capital gains tax that otherwise would have been due (plus interest and possible penalties).

How does Ellen substantiate her charitable tax deduction?

When Ellen donates privately held long term assets to charity, her charitable tax deduction is generally equal to the fair market value on the date of the gift. Fair market value is determined by a qualified independent appraiser. The appraiser attests to the valuation on IRS Form 8283. Appraisals for complex assets typically reflect lack of marketability and/or minority interest discounts. Appraisals can be obtained no earlier than 60 days before the date of donation, and no later than the date the donor's tax return for the year of the gift is due with extensions. Appraisers charge a fee.

What are the acceptance guidelines for complex assets at the selected charity?

Charities have differing guidelines and criteria for the acceptance of complex assets. Charities typically (i) require an understanding of the potential exit strategies and the timing of such exits; (ii) seek to understand the risk they undertake as asset owners, including financial risk and other liability; (iii) seek to eliminate or minimize any exposure during the holding period and as a selling owner in transaction documents; and (iv) may seek indemnification in certain circumstances (e.g., where there is a potential for financial or other liability during the holding period or post-closing).

Is the distribution of ABC Company stock recognition of a gain event to Ellen?

Regardless of whether ABC Company is a public company or privately held at the time of the distribution, there is generally no recognition of gain to Ellen. If it is a public company, under an exception to IRC Section 731, a distribution of marketable securities does not result in recognition where the partnership is an "investment partnership" and the partners are "eligible partners."⁸ If it is a private company, then the distribution of its private stock is not "money" under Section 731, and the general rule does not apply. As a result, there is no recognition of gain.

¹ If the distributed stock is non-publicly traded securities, a qualified appraisal is required.

² For some assets, the public charity will experience unrelated business taxable income (UBTI) during its holding period or through its sale of the asset.

³ This assumes C-corp stock with no Unrelated Business Income Tax (UBIT).

⁴ Fair market value of the appreciated securities as determined by a qualified appraisal, held more than one year.

⁵ This assumes all realized gains are subject to the maximum federal long-term capital gain tax rate of 20% and the Medicare surtax of 3.8%. This does not take into account state or local taxes, if any.

⁶ Fair market value of the stock as determined by a qualified appraisal, held for more than one year.

⁷ If an LP interest is the asset to be transferred, the Limited Partnership Agreement must be reviewed.

⁸ An "investment partnership" is a partnership (i) that has never engaged in a trade or business, and (ii) where substantially all assets of the partnership consist of money, stock in corporations, or certain other investment-type assets (collectively, "investment-type assets"). Regulations under IRC Section 731 generally exclude from activities that would constitute a trade or business those in which a PE Firm would typically engage (e.g., management services, including receipt of fees for such service), consulting services and service on Boards of Directors of portfolio companies. "Eligible Partner" is any partner who, before date of distribution, did not contribute to the partnership any property other than investment-type assets.

This hypothetical case study is provided for illustrative purposes only. It does not represent an actual donor, but is meant to provide an example of how a donor-advised fund can help individuals give significantly more for the causes they care about.

Information provided is general and educational in nature and should not be construed as legal or tax advice. Fidelity Charitable does not provide legal or tax advice. Content provided relates to taxation at the federal level only, and availability of certain federal income tax deductions may depend on whether you itemize deductions. Rules and regulations regarding tax deductions for charitable giving vary at the state level, and laws of a specific state or laws relevant to a particular situation may affect the applicability, accuracy, or completeness of the information provided. Contributions to a public charity of capital gain property held for more than one year are usually deductible at fair market value. Deductions for capital gain property held for one year or less are usually limited to cost basis. Consult an attorney or tax advisor regarding your specific legal or tax situation.

In order to claim a deduction for charitable contributions, you must be eligible to itemize your deductions.

To ensure compliance with Treasury Department Circular 230, you are hereby notified that: (a) any discussion of federal income tax issues in this presentation is not intended or written to be relied upon, and cannot be relied upon, by you for the purpose of avoiding penalties that may be imposed under the Internal Revenue Code; (b) such discussion is being used in connection with the promotion or marketing (within the meaning of Circular 230) by Fidelity Charitable of the matter addressed herein; and (c) you should seek advice based on your particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.